

Food is often referred to as a gateway to sustainability

We like food, too!

Edible Campus Gardens

Student gardeners and volunteers work with the garden staff to grow herbs, greens, tomatoes, and more. Space is also an outdoor laboratory for the ENVST gardens class.

U of U Farmers Market

Starting the first Thursday every fall, the U of U Farmers Market provides an on-campus venue to buy locally grown food and support local vendors. Buy food grown right here on campus!

Sustainable Campus Initiative Fund (SCIF)

SCIF has funded many food-related projects, including garden efforts, beehives, social justice gardens, Real Food Challenge, and more!

Want to get involved?
VOLUNTEER!
Sign up for weekly email updates at tinyurl.com/Ugardens